SNACC MISSION & HISTORY

The mission of the Society for Neuroscience in Anesthesiology and Critical Care (SNACC) is to advance the art and science of the care of the neurologically impaired patient through education, training and research in perioperative neuroscience.

SNACC’s history began in 1972 as the subspecialty of neuroanesthesiology was firmly established and research groups of anesthesiologists and neurosurgeons around the world partnered on common areas of investigation. The Neurosurgical Anesthesia Society (NAS) was formed and the first organized meeting of the Society took place in 1973 before the American Society of Anesthesiologists Annual Meeting, thus beginning the tradition of meeting the day before the ASA each year. Neuroanesthesiology was formally recognized by the ASA as a subspecialty in 1976.

In 1973 the Neurosurgical Anesthesia Society was changed to the Society of Neurosurgical Anesthesia and Neurological Supportive Care (SNANSC) allowing for more disciplines to enter the organization. The Annual Meeting programs were enhanced by active participation of neurosurgeons -a hallmark of SNACC since its inception. Beginning with the 1974 meeting, the scientific programs have consisted of free papers covering experimental studies or clinical protocols, evidence of the value SNACC places on research in the field. The educational programs throughout SNACC’s 44 year history demonstrate the wide variety of its members’ concerns relating to clinical, basic science, and educational objectives. The international aspect of SNACC’s interests has always been evidenced by the number of non-U.S. participants. In 1986 SNANSC became the Society of Neurosurgical Anesthesia and Critical Care (SNACC) in order to recognize the importance of critical care medicine to patients with severe neurological dysfunction.

ANNUAL MEETING PROGRAM

The 44th Annual Meeting program focuses on recent novel and innovative data that could have a major impact on clinical practice. Through workshops SNACC will address airway management issues specific to patients with neurologic disease and emergency neurologic life support. There will be symposia that address basic and clinical science aspects of traumatic brain injury, surgery for the management of seizure disorder, recent data pertaining to anesthetic neurotoxicity in children, novel developments in neuropharmacology, and controversial perioperative management issues in neurosurgical and critically ill patients with neurologic diseases. This program reflects the diversity of the specialty as well as the needs and interests of both the general and sub-specialist anesthesiologist’s practice. The moderated posters will reflect experimental and clinical neuroscience.

TARGET AUDIENCE

The SNACC 44th Annual Meeting has been designed to meet the educational needs of neurosurgical and critical care anesthesiologists and neuroscientists involved in the care of patients with neurological disorders and is intended for neurosurgical and critical care anesthesiologists, neuroscientists, faculty, residents, fellows and medical students.

We anticipate 300 attendees will attend the 30th Annual Meeting, primarily neuroanesthesiologists and neuroscientists.
ACCREDITATION AND DESIGNATION

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of the American Society of Anesthesiologists and the Society for Neuroscience in Anesthesiology and Critical Care. The American Society of Anesthesiologists is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The American Society of Anesthesiologists designates this live activity for a maximum of 14.0 credits AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

INVITATION TO SUPPORT

SNACC is pleased to invite your organization to increase your visibility and build or strengthen relationships with neuroanesthesiologists and neuroscientists. Industry support is vital to the success of this conference and demonstrates your commitment to improving patient care. We are excited to offer your organization the opportunity to help support this important educational activity.
